REVELATIONS BROUGHT FORTH

Titanic Probe Wrings Out
Some Tardy Admissions
of Responsibility

HOLD STORIES FOR $$$$
WAS WIRELESS ADVICE

Franklin Says White Star Office May Have Sent False
Safety Reports

WASHINGTON, April 22.—"Keep your mouth shut. Hold stories for dollars in four figures. Marconi agreeing. Will meet you at dock."

This is a sample of the messages sent by Chief Operator W. T. Sam-mis to the wireless operators aboard
the Carpathia, and explains why the people of two continents were held in suspense following the Titanic disaster.
Sammis admitted today that he sent such messages. The matter will come before the senate committee investigating the disaster.

Secretary of the Navy Meyer today ordered the wireless operators on the government vessels Salem and Chester to appear and explain their futile
efforts to get details of the disaster
from the Carpathia.

It is understood that Mrs. Astor,
Mrs. J. B. Thayer, Mrs. Henry Harris
and Mrs. Widener have signified their willingness to testify. Two women survivors are coming who assert they will testify to the fact that the crews
of the lifeboats were drunk and brutal in their treatment of the women and children. The thirty-two sailors and four officers, survivors of the crew of the Titanic held in America, are indignant, declaring the committee has no right to hold them against their will.

A dispatch from New York states that J. Bruce Ismay declares he is willing to testify before the senatorial committee. When interviewed by a United Press representative, Ismay
said he had recovered his composure.
"I cannot understand the senate inquiry," he said. "I am at present concerned with securing my new wardrobe." He seemed troubled at the lack of consideration shown him outside the White Star offices.

Vice President Franklin of the White Star Steamship line admitted to the committee that the White Star offices might have given out a report
last Monday that the Titanic's crew and passengers were safe, but he denied the responsibility. He said the report might have originated with some one in the office unknown to him.

Franklin testified:
"I do not see how anyone can be held responsible. We considered the Titanic an immense lifeboat and unsinkable. Ismay and myself are at your disposal, but I think the sailors should be released. They are hard to handle, and we would like to send them home."

ISMAI DENIES CHARGES—SAYS SHIP MUST PROVIDE
LIFEBOATS FOR ALL ABOARD
NEW YORK, April 22.—In a statement given out last night, J. Bruce Ismay, managing director of the White Star line, replied to several published statements regarding the Titanic disaster in which his name prominently figured.

He denied he had anything to do with the navigation of the vessel and declared that he did not consult with her captain regarding her conduct at sea, and made no suggestion as to the course or other handling of the ship.

He exercised no privileges that did not belong to any other first-class passenger, he declared; did not sit at the captain's table and was not dining with him at the time of the accident, and in fact, was in bed
when the collision occurred.

He had no idea of returning to Europe particularly to avoid appearing at the senatorial investigation,
he added, and only knew that the investigation was pending when informed of it at the pier on the Carpathia's arrival.

He said the Titanic wreck showed that in the future ships must be equipped with lifeboats and rafts sufficient to provide for every soul on board, and sufficient men to manuever them.

MRS. ASTOR PAYS TRIBUTE TO HUSBAND'S BRAVERY
NEW YORK, April 22.—Colonel J.
J. Astor went to his death unafraid.
This is the substance of a tribute paid
to her husband by Mrs. Astor today.
She indignantly denied that her husband asked for place in the boat, saying that the last place in the boat was taken by a man who fought his way through the crowd, snatched the blankets from a shivering woman
and sat curled at the end of the boat
while they rowed.

Mc Kay-Bennett Recovers Many Titanic Dead

NEW YORK, April 22.—The following message dated Sunday was received today from the cable ship Mackay-Bennett sent to recover the bodies of Titanic victims:

"Latitude 41:50, longitude 49:21: A heavy squall is interfering with operations. Fifty bodies have been recovered. All the unembalmed will be buried at sea
at 8 o'clock, with divine services.
Can only bring embalmed bodies
to port."

It is believed the funerals had already taken place.

The finding of so many bodies
verifies the belief that if the Car-pathia and other nearby boats had made a thorough search in the vicinity of the Titanic wreck
they could have picked up many survivors who were floating on rafts or wreckage. Doubtless a majority of those were benumbed
by cold and exposure and unable to signal for help. When the Car-pathia hastened away their last hope perished.

Jews Mistreated and French Killed in Mutiny TANGIERS, April 22.—It has been learned since the mutiny of native
troops was quelled that thirty French citizens were killed and Jews mistreated. 3000 Jews are being cared for at the Sultan's palace.

Warden Reilly Criticized,
Resigns Head Folsom Prison
SACRAMENTO, April 22.—Following criticism of his management, H.
Reilly, warden of the Folsom penitentiary, today gave his resignation to the board of prison directors, becoming effective June first. The directors say Reilly is honest, but charged cruelty to prisoners and alleged his methods were antiquated.

Thaw, slayer of Stanford White, according to friends of the Thaw family, will be freed from a life term in the near future and enter business life in Pittsburgh.

It is declared that as far as Mrs.
Evelyn Thaw is concerned she is satisfied with the arrangements made
and will not oppose the move outlined as planned for the near future.

WALTER MILLER CLARK
DEAD, SAYS MAJ. GRACIE

LOS ANGELES, April 22.—
"Tell your brother that his son perished as a hero with the other brave men whose gallant acts and devotion to duty challenges the admiration of the whole world."

The foregoing message, telling the fate of Walter Miller
Clark, who went down with the Titanic, was delivered to Senator W. A. Clark in New York
by Colonel Archibald Gracie,
U.S.N., to be transmitted to J.
Ross Clark of Los Angeles.
Colonel Gracie saw Clark go
to his death in the deep seas
with Major Butt and others.

STRIKE CRISIS WILL COME TONIGHT

Railroads Given Till Evening to Grant the Demands of Engineers

ORDER FOR STRIKE WILL FOLLOW THEIR REFUSAL

Condition Serious—Walk Out
Would Be Widespread Calamity, Says Judge

NEW YORK, April 22.—Unless an agreement is reached by 6:30 o'- clock tonight, when the armistice expires, five thousand engineers employed on the big railroads east of Chicago and north of the Ohio river will be ordered to strike within thirty-six hours. The present indications are that a strike is inevitable.

The bone of contention is a flat demand by the engineers for an eighteen per cent wage increase,
standardization of runs and extra pay when held at terminals. The railroads profess to be unable to meet these demands, asserting that the public is clamoring for double tracking, interlocking switches and other safeguards.

Labor Commissioner Neill is in close touch with both sides. The engineers state that they have nothing to arbitrate. A strike would seriously interfere with the movement of foodstuffs, milk, and other dairy products to large eastern cities.

JUDGE PESSIMISTIC
AS TO STRIKE OUTLOOK
Presiding Judge Knapp of the Commerce Court takes a pessimistic view of the situation. He said:
"I came here on my own initiative to try to prevent a terrible industrial calamity. The outlook is serious."

SIMON BERTHOLD AGAIN TO THE FRONT

Said to Be Leading Movement
in Lower California—Rebels Capture Town

SAN DIEGO, April 22.—Some local authorities have received reports of rebel activities in Lower California which lead them to believe that Simon Berthold, a leader of the last revolution in Mexico, is preparing to re-enter the field. It is stated that small parties have been crossing the border
during the past week carrying packs, which may have contained rifles, and are congregating at Campo, fifty miles from the border. Berthold's idea was to establish a socialist republic.

MAY SEND WAR SHIP TO WEST COAST OF MEXICO

WASHINGTON, April 22.—It was expected that President Taft and Secretary Knox probably would decide in a conference today or Tuesday
whether it appears necessary to dispatch a war ship to points on the west coast of Mexico to inquire into conditions surrounding the Americans
there and bring away any who may wish to leave.

Rebels Take Ayotitlan
GUADALAJARA, Mex., April 22.—
Rebels have captured the town of Ayotitlan, in this state, and when a federal force attempted to dislodge
them a hard fight took place, the rebels being victorious. The number of killed and wounded is not known here.

ITALY'S FLEET IN THE GULF OF SAMOS

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 22.—
The Italian fleet is reported to have mobilized on the Gulf of Saros. Land fortifications have been ordered
at the entrance to the Dardanelles.

TURKS RECEIVE NOTICE OF INTENDED BOMBARDMENT
CONSTANTINOPLE, April 22.—
A dispatch from Smyrna says eight Italian cruisers are off the Turkish coast, four miles from the west coast of Asia Minor, and that the admiral gave notice that he would bombard the place today unless the garrison surrenders.

RUIZ WAS SHOT WHILE HIS HANDS WERE HELD IN AIR

Because Man Drank Whiskey and Could Not Return Fifty Cents, William E. Wheeler Fires Bullet
Into Defenseless Man

Ruiz's Dying Statement
Santa Ana Hospital, hour 9:30 p.m., April 21, 1912.
"I, Bernard Ruiz, believing I
am about to die, make the following statement:
"William Wheeler gave me
four-bits to get booze. I took the four-bits and was away about one hour. He (Wheeler) asked me for the money and I told him I did not have it. Then he began quarreling. Then he (Wheeler) said: 'Hands up,' and then he shot me. I had no gun, not even a knife. I never made a motion to strike him."
Witnesses: Bob Squires,
Geo. C. Law.

One of the most cowardly shootings that has occurred in this county took place at Los Alamitos yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, when William E. Wheeler shot Bernard Ruiz after he had made Ruiz hold up his hands. Ruiz was unarmed.
He will probably die from the wound.
The bullet entered the left side, perforated the intestines seven times.

Wheeler shot Ruiz because Ruiz
did not bring him a bottle of whiskey that he had bought with fifty cents given him by Wheeler.
After shooting Ruiz, Wheeler made him walk into a boarding house.
Wheeler took refuge in a hotel, and dared not come out.

Wheeler has been working for several weeks as an assistant machinist at the Los Alamitos sugar factory. Ruiz, who lives at Anaheim, has been thinning sugar beets at Los Alamitos.

Yesterday afternoon Wheeler gave Ruiz fifty cents, and Ruiz agreed to buy a bottle of whiskey for Wheeler.
Ruiz bought the whiskey, and he and some of his friends drank it. An hour later Wheeler, who was accompanied by Harry Gallagher of Norwalk, met Ruiz on the street near the new Los Alamitos store. Ruiz says that Wheeler demanded fifty cents, and Ruiz told him that he did not have it.

Wheeler drew a 38-caliber revolver
and ordered Ruiz to put up his hands. Ruiz did as he was ordered.
Several witnesses saw the man with

70,000 FLOOD VICTIMS FED

Conditions Serious in South—Much Suffering—Loss of Life May Be Great

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Upward
of 70,000 flood sufferers are being daily fed in the Mississippi valley.
The medical department and the Red Cross are planning campaigns for cleaning up the flooded areas to prevent the spread of disease.

As the crest of the flood moves
south, the need of aid increases.
Flood conditions near Memphis, Tenn.,
are better, but the situation in the south is more serious.

According to information from Greenville, Miss., the conditions of most intense suffering in the flooded
district center in the Bogie Palla country. No authentic reports of the loss of life are obtainable at this time, but it is known to be great.

TONG LEADERS NOW FACE DEPORTATION

Frisco Police Chief Says That
Is the Only Solution of the Bitter Contest

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—Deportation of all Chinese involved in the recent tong wars was planned
today by Acting Chief of Police Shea. Government authorities have already been asked to take steps to ward this end. Despite the peace pact now in existence, Shea declares
this is the only solution. He said:
"The leaders of the tongs are the responsible ones, and as soon as sufficient evidence is gathered it will be laid before the federal government and deportation of all the Chinese involved asked."

RECORD SIZE GRAPEFRUIT
ALHAMBRA, April 22.—What are claimed to be record size grapefruit
have just been taken from the trees
of Albert Kenyon, 217 South Second street, the largest measuring 18 1/2 inches in circumference.
Nine big specimens of the fruit matured in one cluster and on one branch.

ROOSEVELT'S MAJORITY IS SURE

Wins Oregon From La Follette and Taft—Wilson Leads the Democrats

BOURNE IS MANIFESTLY
DEFEATED BY SELLING

Straws in South Blow Roosevelt's Way—La Follette
at Fresno Thursday

PORTLAND, Ore., April 22.—Practically complete returns of the presidential primaries give Roosevelt 25-390; La Follette, 20,194; Taft, 18,219.
Wilson wins the Democratic nomination by a plurality of one thousand.

Senator Jonathan Bourne was defeated for renomination by Ben Sel-lines, with 6095 plurality.

Dr. Harry Lane gets a Democratic senatorial plurality of over three thousand.

For Congress in the Third district, A. W. Lafferty, Republican, is leading Judge Gatenbein by 700; in the Second district, N. J. Sinnott, progressive, is 700 ahead of W. R. Ellis.

Campaign Straws
The Latin-American Progressive
Republican Club of Santa Monica has unanimously decided to work for Roosevelt at the presidential primaries.

Three hundred members of the Los Angeles Hebrew Club, voicing the sentiment of the major part of the Jewish residents of Los Angeles, by unanimous vote last night endorsed the presidential candidacy of Theodor Roosevelt.

J. E. Dufton, now visiting Los Angeles, declares that Taft will be repudiated in Arizona as a result of his veto of the statehood bill containing the recall clause. Mr. Duft-on, who is prominent in Arizona
political affairs, says:

"I believe Arizona will prove one of the strongest Roosevelt states in the country taking into consideration its population."

LA FOLLETTE DUE AT FRESNO AND LOS ANGELES THIS WEEK

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—It was announced at headquarters today that Senator La Follette will open his California campaign at Fresno Thursday.
He will speak at Los Angeles on Friday night, probably at the Temple Auditorium. Said La Follette:
"It is significant in Oregon that when Roosevelt was nominated that Senator Bourne was defeated. The cause of popular government has no more ardent champion than Bourne.
Selling is known to be a reactionary."

LOS ANGELES CAR OF GOLDEN STATE LIMITED HELD UP

CHICAGO, April 22.—The Los Angeles car of the Golden State Limited,
the Rock Island's train de luxe between Chicago and California, which left here Saturday night at 9 o'clock,
was boarded by two masked bandits
at Bureau, Ill. The collection netted the bandits $651 in cash and about $500 in jewelry.

Satisfied with their haul, the robbers tried to stop the train. Their counter efforts on the signal cord were disregarded, and they finally brought the train to a stop by firing shots through the air hose. The bandits escaped.

I. W. W.'S ACTIVE ON CANADIAN R. R. LINES

SEATTLE, Wash., April 22.—The only part of the northwest where the activity of the Industrial Workers of the World is reported is along the lines of the Canadian Northern railway, where 60,000 laborers are on a strike.

RAILROADS MUST PRE-COOL CARS AT CHARGE OF $7.50

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today ordered the railroads to restore to Southern California fruit growers the right to have loaded fruit cars
pre-cooled at a charge of $7.50 per car.

NEWSPAPER ADS BEST, DECLARES CIRCUS MAN

An experiment has been tried out here in Southern California by the Sells-Floto circus people that is of tremendous interest to publishers—and to advertisers. From time immemorial, the billboards have been plastered with thrilling posters in flaming colors, telling of the coming of the circus. While show managers used all kinds of advertising, and were liberal in the allotment for newspaper space, without doubt the big part of their expenditure went to the billboards. But the Sells-Floto people undertook to eliminate the billboards, and to spend more money with newspapers. The result has amply justified the test. Wherever they have set up their tents in Southern California when weather was good, they have played to big business—generally to capacity, and this is what a reporter of the Los Angeles Herald found as to the result:

"Since the Sells-Floto circus has confined its advertising business to newspapers only, it has made a gain of $500 a day in its proceeds, with a decrease in advertising cost of $200 a day."

This is the statement of H. H. Tammen, one of the publishers of the Denver Post, the man who conceived the idea of abandoning billboard advertising for the purpose of concentrating all advertising strength with the newspapers:

"I'll tell you how it works," he continued with a good-natured smile. "and why it is bound to be a steadily increasing success—bound to be so so certainly that it is safe to say we will never advertise any other way. The old method was this: 'A circus would go to a lithographing house and buy from $25,000 to $100,000 worth of lithographs; then, with its cars covered with the advertising sheets, it would enter a town and proceed to bill that town. That done, the circus man felt he had nothing else left to do but to go to the newspapers and give them all the tickets to the show that they could use, as little money as he could manage, and work them for as much news notice as possible. Then he would go back to the tent and boast about how he had fished the papers."

"But that was unprofitable, aside from not being square. 'In those days the billboards were an extreme novelty. Nowadays, ice cream sodas, baked beans and under-shirts are all mixed up on the billboards—the scenes you see on them are common and confusing."

"Well, the Sells-Floto decided to change its method of advertising, and though many said it would not work, we have made a big success of it."

"In those days the billboards were an extreme novelty. Nowadays, ice cream sodas, baked beans and under-shirts are all mixed up on the billboards—the scenes you see on them are common and confusing."

"Well, the Sells-Floto decided to change its method of advertising, and though many said it would not work, we have made a big success of it."

"THAT OUGHT TO SUGGEST SOMETHING TO THE MERCHANT, WHO IS URGED TO SPEND HIS MONEY ON THE BILLBOARDS, CIRCULARS, BROTTERS AND IN A HUNDRED AND ONE OTHER WASTEFUL WAYS."

He pays a big price for space that a few hundred people see. For less money he could have a large space in today's Register, printed in more than 3300 papers, and read by nearly 16,000 people within easy reach of his establishment."

The circus people have not only worked out something of direct advantage to themselves, but they have pointed the way to the merchant who is seeking the best publicity for the money."

Some Pertinent Political Pointers For the Careful Consideration of Voters

TAFT A PROGRESSIVE SURE ENOUGH

The Roster of His Supporters Furnishes Legal Proof.

SOME OF THE MEN BEHIND HIM

Corporation Lawyers, Standpat Senators, Trust Organizers, Machine Politicians, Are All Working For Taft.

A respected member of Mr. Taft's cabinet has been circulating a pamphlet containing a speech written by himself to prove that Taft is a progressive. That ought to settle it, especially as Mr. Taft himself says he is a progressive. The best proof as to Taft's progressiveness, however, lies neither in the pamphlet of the cabinet member nor the statement of Mr. Taft, but in the list of progressive American statesmen who are leading the fight for Mr. Taft in the United States and who have declared Mr. Taft's progressiveness as the only genuine brand which they were willing to invest in or endorse.

As a nation of lawyers—for that, it seems, is our chief magistrate's conception of the American people—we are entitled to the best evidence to legal proof. And the best legal proof of what Mr. Taft is and what Mr. Taft stands for is to be found in who the men are and what the men stand for who are leading the fight for his re-nomination. They know him better than the average citizen, for they are daily working with him and for him. Here is a small list of the main Taft enthusiasts who have put the brand of "progressive" on the Hon. William Howard Taft and are now booming him for four more years of "progress." It is not a complete list, and the reader is at liberty to add to it from the store of his own political knowledge. It is arranged for convenience by states.

New York. The Hon. William Barnes, Jr., whom Taft made chairman of the Republican state committee, boss of Albany county, recently charged, in vice report now before the New York legislature, with protecting gambling and prostitution; old guard dictator in the legislature; implacable foe of Roosevelt. Hughes and direct primaries, and leader of the combination between Tammany and the Republican machine.

J. B. Duke, who recently promised Taft his support, head of the tobacco trust, whose "dissemination" as a result of Wickersham's prosecution has simply amounted to an immunity bath and a license to continue its dishonest warfare against competition at a profit already of more than $100,000,000. Mr. Duke is also head of the southern water power combine.

Chauncey M. Depew, ex-railroad senator, officer in seventy corporations and trusts, lieutenant of the late Thomas C. Platt.

The Hon. James Wadsworth, stock raiser and ex-congressman, who lost his seat in congress as the result of his fight against Roosevelt's meat inspection bill.

Washington State. Richard A. Ballinger, late secretary of the interior, forced from office by public opinion in spite of President Taft's determination to keep him, supporter of the Morgan-Guggenheim-Cunningham Alaska interests.

Jacob Furth, representing the Stone and Webster water power, electric railway and electric light corporations throughout Washington and other western states.

The Hon. Wesley Jones, standpat senator, supporter also of Senator Lorimer.

Minnesota. Ex-Congressman James A. Tawney, Taft leader of Minnesota, principal lieutenant of Cannon, the man who helped Cannon in his fight to oppose Roosevelt's pure food and drug law, the chief representative in congress of the lumber interests and one of the strongest opponents in congress of progressive legislation, supported by Mr. Taft. Mr. Cannon and the cabinet in his unsuccessful fight for re-election to congress.

James J. Hill, the most active friend of corporate privilege and foe of progressiveness in the west, who recently called upon the president and gave public assurance of his support of Taft's candidacy.

Iowa. Ex-Senator Lafe Young, an old fashioned reactionary politician, who succeeded Dooliver through Taft's influence.

Massachusetts. The Hon. Murray Crane, boss of Massachusetts Republican politics; one of the largest individual holders of General Electric, Bell Telephone and Western Union securities in the United States; deeply interested in the New England textile industry and in the water power enterprises in the west and south; also one of the most powerful influences in the J. P. Morgan merger of New England's steam railways, electric railways and steamship lines; since Aldrich's retirement the most powerful friend of corporate privilege in the senate.

Oregon. Ex-Senator Fulton, made famous by Heney's land graft prosecutions. Mr.

taft offered Senator Fulton the position of minister to China and federal judge.

California. Pat Cahoone, boss of the ring of San Francisco and traction magnate. Mr. Cahoone at a recent dinner in Boston set by President Taft, spoke in his support and denounced Roosevelt's progressive policies.

William F. Herrin, who is counsel and political boss for the Southern Pacific political machine and who in this capacity dictated the choice of both Republican and Democratic nominees throughout the state until Governor Hiram Johnson put the Southern Pacific out of Republican politics in California.

Idaho. Senator Heyburn, arch standpatter and reactionary, who agreed to help the Cunningham claimants get their patents. He has always been a strong special interest man and a clamorous enemy of conservation in congress.

New Hampshire. Senator Gallinger, the representative of the New York, New Haven and Hartford system; for many years chairman of the District of Columbia committee in the senate and who during this time has opposed every measure to control the public service corporations in the District of Columbia, also an active opponent of self government in the District of Columbia.

Rhode Island. Nelson W. Aldrich, the rubber trust, ex-boss of the United States senate, the framer of the Aldrich tariff bill, the man who more than any other made the senate an instrument of special privilege and a body unrepresentative of the people of this country. Supported and publicly praised by Taft for putting over the Aldrich bill.

Delaware. Senator Henry F. Lippitt, who succeeded Aldrich. The man who wrote the cotton schedule of the Aldrich tariff bill for Mr. Aldrich.

Wisconsin. Senator Isaac Stephenson, lumber baron and lumber interest representative in the senate.

Colorado. William G. Evans, gas, water power, public service and political boss of Colorado.

Utah. Senator Simon Guggenheim of smelter trust and Alaskan fame, the henchman and representative of the Evans interests.

Bob Speer, mayor and boss of the city of Denver.

James F. Smith, president of the Mormon church, a political, religious and financial oligarchy which controls Utah and which has promised to throw its support to Taft. Smith is not only president of the Mormon church, but director in the Union Pacific railway and president of the Utah Sugar company, whose stock is controlled by the sugar trust and the Mormon church jointly.

Senator Reed Smoot, one of the twelve apostles of the Mormon church. A sugar and wool senator and now leader of the reactionaries in the senate.

Pennsylvania. Senator Boies Penrose, one of Mr. Taft's closest advisers, boss of the state of Pennsylvania.

"Divine Right" Baer, president of the Philadelphia and Reading railway and head of the anthracite coal trust; the man who during the hard coal strike in 1902 promulgated the theory that Providence had placed the anthracite coal in the hands of the hard coal trust and given to him and his friends "the divine right" to dispose of the hard coal for what price they saw fit.

Montana. The Amalgamated Copper company, a corporation organized by H. H. Rogers and William Rockefeller and controlled at present by Standard Oil, is the political and financial boss of the state. Taft's strength in Montana is due to the all powerful political ring which is owned by Amalgamated Copper.

Illinois. Joseph G. Cannon, reactionary ex-boss of house of representatives, whom Mr. Taft unsuccessfully supported for re-election as speaker.

William B. McKinley, Cannon's first lieutenant in house, the traction magnate of Illinois. Manager of the Taft campaign and strong opponent to government by the people.

William Lorimer, now on trial by the senate on the charge of buying his seat and who hopes to win through Mr. Taft's support.

Wyoming. Senator Warren, head of the Warren ring in Wyoming, Washington representative of the combination between the wool producers and wool manufacturers, the man who helped the Union Pacific Coal company to acquire the coal fields of Wyoming, which operation is spoken of by Chairman Knapp in his report to the interstate commerce commission as having been accomplished by violence, fraud and theft.

Congressman Mondell, reactionary member of public lands committee, the most conspicuous enemy of conservation in the house.

Ohio. Boss Cox of Cincinnati, prizefighter, ex-saloon keeper and boss of a political machine in comparison with which Tammany Hall is a good government club.

Charles P. Taft, who, with his brother, William Howard, backed the Cox machine in the last Ohio state election in its fight against the Ohio progressives.

John R. McLean, newspaper owner and backer of the Cox machine. A Democrat in politics, but a Republican for the purpose of Taft's election.

These are some of the men who are the wheel horses of the Taft progressive movement. These are the men whom he has supported and advised during his administration and who are now crying for his re-nomination. They have placed their O. K. on Mr. Taft and pronounced him a "progressive," but a "safe and sane" progressive. Four years ago when they thought with Roosevelt and others that he was genuinely progressive they all opposed him. But now they know him better and are all anxious to re-elect him.

If a plain citizen should have the impudence to inquire of these gentlemen how a president can be "safe and sane" both to the plain people and to the bosses, ringmasters and special interest representatives who prey upon the plain people, these gentlemen would no doubt reply in the words of the old song: "Hall, hall, the gang's all here! What the h—l do we care!" But there is another question that the gang does care about, and that is interesting it more and more as the Republican national convention draws near. That question is whether, after all, it is worth while to nominate a man who cannot be elected even if his progressiveness is everything that the gang requires and nothing that it does not require.

Leadership is as dear to the bosses as the government payroll is to the southern officeholders. To the bosses and officeholders the nomination of Taft means defeat, and defeat means loss of power and loss of jobs.

ROOSEVELT VERSUS TAFT.

A Comparison Between a Progressive and a Reactionary.

In his Louisville speech Mr. Roosevelt suggested these standards for distinguishing between the progressive and the reactionary:

Every man who fights fearlessly and effectively against special privilege in any form is to that extent a progressive. Every man who directly or indirectly upholds privilege and favors the special interests, whether he acts from evil motives or merely because he is puzzle headed or dull of mental vision or lacking in social sympathy or whether he simply lacks interest in the subject, is a reactionary. Every man is to that extent a progressive if he stands for any form of social justice, whether it is securing proper protection for factory girls against dangerous machinery or securing a proper limitation of hours of labor for women and children in industry, for securing proper living conditions for those who dwell in the thickly crowded regions of our great cities, for helping, so far as legislators can help, all the conditions of work and life for wageworkers in great centers of industry or for helping by the action both of the national and state governments, so far as conditions will permit, the men and women who dwell in the open country to increase their efficiency both in production on their farms and in business arrangements for the marketing of their produce and also to increase the opportunities to give the best possible expression to their social life. The man is a reactionary, whatever may be his profession and no matter how excellent his intentions, who opposes these movements or who if in high places takes no interest in them, and does not earnestly help them forward.

The Metropolitan Magazine in an editorial makes this comparison between President Taft and his predecessor:

The present incumbent of the office is a man of comfortable habits. He enjoys good food and fast motorgars. His recreation is golf over the links of two of the most exclusive country clubs in America. If he hears John D. Rockefeller or the Duke of Westminster he could not be further removed from the atmosphere of manual labor. One cannot conceive Mr. Taft spending days among the miners of Pennsylvania, the state of the workers of Pittsburgh. Nor can one picture him taking any passionate interest in the tolling masses. If they get what the law allows them he is well content to dismiss them from his well balanced mind.

The other candidates are like Mr. Taft—with the exception of Roosevelt. He is different, not because he does not like the good things of this world; he probably likes them just as much as Taft. Who doesn't? But he is not dependent on them. And he has a burning sympathy with the poor wretches who never can enjoy them. He is a rich man, compared with the vast majority of his fellow countrymen, but the comforts of life are not enough for him. He was born with the divine discontent. He cannot be easy in wealth so long as the wealth of the few is built upon the misery of the many. Roosevelt has been for days among the miners of Pennsylvania. Probably he would much rather be shooting lions or leading a regiment in battle. But the justice of life so impresses itself upon him that he cannot rest until he has at least done his share to improve things.

This comparison is a keen analysis of the reasons underlying the events of the last four years which must inevitably culminate in making Mr. Roosevelt the people's candidate for the presidency in November.—Kansas City Star.

MR. REPUBLICAN VOTER.

Are You Willing to Have the Democratic Party Name the Republican Candidate For President?

This is just what the Democrats are attempting to do all over the country. The Democratic newspapers are breaking their necks to nominate Taft and are hysterical in their denunciation of Roosevelt.

Why? Because the Democrats know they can beat Taft in the election if he is nominated and know they cannot beat Roosevelt. Every Democrat everywhere knows Roosevelt would be elected. This is why the Democratic newspapers and the Democratic politicians are breaking their necks to keep Roosevelt from getting the nomination—good business on their part.

Suppose Roosevelt would prove a weak candidate if nominated. Would the Democrats oppose his nomination as they are now doing? Most certainly not. To beat Roosevelt in the nomination means to every Democrat that the Democratic party will win at the polls in November. These are plain facts that you cannot get away from. Think it out for yourself.

COLLIER SAYS HE IS NOT CANDIDATE

San Diego Fair Booster Has Hat on Head Not in the Congressional Ring

SAN DIEGO, April 22.—On the eve of his departure for the East on another of his boosting tours for the San Diego exposition, Col. D. C. Collier, president of the San Diego exposition organization, made the positive statement that he is not, and never has been, a candidate for Congress. This sets at rest the many rumors of Colonel Collier's candidacy.

"My hat is on my head, and it is going to stay there," said Colonel Collier. "It has not been shied into the congressional ring, and it will not be. When I was elected president of the exposition in San Diego I accepted the office with a full realization of the work ahead of me, and I promised the people of San Diego that I would stay with it, and devote all of my time to it."

"The exposition work will occupy all of my time until the close of the exposition at the end of 1915, and I want to assure my friends in California, right now, that the San Diego exposition is going to be a great success. I say this without any reservation, because of the fact that the men who are behind the San Diego exposition, and who are doing the work for it, are all earnest and enthusiastic, and all imbued with the idea that there is nothing that men cannot do, if they start out with the right intentions and stick to the one main thing."

"We started out over two years ago to build an exposition in San Diego that should be absolutely unique and different from any other exposition ever held, and at the same time that should be calculated to attract the attention of the world to the wonderful resources and possibilities of the great Southwest, and demonstrate the possibilities of an interchange of commerce between the countries of the two Americas. We have kept steadily to that idea, and we are beginning to see the great value in so doing. So I say that I cannot and will not allow any political ambitions to interfere with me now."

AMUSEMENTS

PRODUCES 600 INCHES WATER

Anaheim Union Water Co. Well at Richfield Proves a Gold Mine

FULLERTON, April 20.—The Anaheim Union Water Company has practically completed its water well on the Gumber tract near Richfield and the contractor estimates that it will develop at least 600 miner's inches of water. This will supply much new acreage and Anaheim. It is an 18-inch well. The water company is also finishing the pressure pipe line on Placentia avenue and running the gravity line to the north ditch. The pumping and reservoir at Crowther's corner are being completed. This reservoir will hold two and a half million gallons. These improvements were decided upon at the last annual meeting and will cost about $40,000.

The Girls' Glee Club of the High School last evening gave a colonial concert at the Bank Hall under the direction of the instructor, Miss Vora Remay.

The foundations for the high school buildings on the Central site are being started by the contractor. The fifteen acres has been cleared ready for building.

A petition is being circulated asking the city trustees to purchase the old high school site for a city park. It contains about five acres and is located on West Commonwealth avenue.

Don't neglect an aching back. Backache is often the kidneys' cry for help.

Neglect hurrying to the kidneys aid means that urinary troubles may follow.

Or danger of worse kidney trouble. W. N. Nelson, 902 E. Fifth St., Santa Ana, Cal., says: "Six or seven years ago, while living in Pennsylvania, I used Doan's Kidney Pills and was relieved of pains in my back from which I had suffered. Occasionally my back was so painful that I could scarcely turn over in bed. In addition to this, I also had rheumatic pains. The contents of a few boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Doan's Drug Store (now Wheeler & Mateer's Drug Store) removed my aches and pains and I have had no cause for complaint since."

TOMATO CROP AND PRICE GOOD

Cannery is Making Contracts For Purchase of Product at $8 Per Ton

Anaheim Plain Dealer: Tomato growers of the Anaheim and Fullerton districts are now approaching what promises to be one of the best seasons in their history, for the reason that a record-breaking price will be paid for the coming crop. The Anaheim cannery is now getting in shape for the coming packing season, and is making contracts with growers on a basis of $8 per ton. Last year the cannery paid $7.50 per ton, and in previous seasons $6. At the figure named for this season's crop there is a handsome profit for the grower, and during the next few weeks the industry will turn many thousands of dollars into the channels of trade in the northern part of the county.

The pack of the Anaheim cannery has a high reputation with the trade, and always commands the best prices. This reputation is the result of years of consistent effort toward putting out only the highest class of goods, and to the superior quality of the product grown in this section. While only a small acreage, comparatively speaking, is devoted to it, the industry has developed into an important and highly profitable one, with Anaheim as its center. Not every soil is adapted to the growing of the finest tomatoes, and the fame of the Anaheim product is wide.

Growers say that the outlook for the coming season is excellent, in view of all conditions. This means prosperity not only for the growers, but for the large number of people engaged in the harvesting and packing of the crop. A large part of the money thus received will go into immediate circulation, a fact which is fully appreciated by the merchants of this territory.

CHANGE CHURCH TO A METHODIST

Newport News: Negotiations are under way for the change of the local Baptist church into a Methodist church, and a letter was received this week by Mrs. C. A. Barton from Alfred Inwood, who is in charge of this district, saying that a minister would be supplied for Newport Beach every Sunday morning and evening.

Miss Mammie Butterfield left for Reno, Nev., Friday morning after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Butterfield. She goes to San Francisco by boat, where she will attend the wedding of a friend before continuing to Reno, where she has a good position as a nurse. Miss Butterfield was formerly superintendent of the Angelus hospital in Los Angeles. Her sister, Mrs. Engle, of Santa Ana, spent the day with her Thursday.

ACTUAL STARVATION

Facts About Indigestion and Its Relief That Should Interest You

—Although indigestion and dyspepsia are so prevalent, most people do not thoroughly understand their cause and cure. There is no reason why most people should not eat anything they desire—if they will only chew it carefully and thoroughly. Many actually starve themselves into sickness through fear of eating every good looking, good smelling and good tasting food, because it does not agree with them.

The best thing to do is to fit yourself to digest any good food.

We believe we can relieve dyspepsia. We are so confident of this fact that we guarantee and promise to supply the medicine free of all cost to every one who will use it, who is not perfectly satisfied with the results which it produces. We exact no promise, and put no one under any obligation whatever. Surely, nothing could be fairer. We are located right here and our reputation should be sufficient assurance of the genuineness of our offer.

I want everyone troubled with indigestion or dyspepsia in any form to come to our store and buy a box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. Take them home and give them a reasonable trial, according to directions. Then, if not satisfied, come to us and get your money back. They are very pleasant to take; they aid to soothe the irritable stomach, to strengthen and invigorate the digestive organs, and to promote a healthy and natural bowel action, thus leading to perfect and healthy digestion and assimilation.

A 25c package of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets furnishes 15 days' treatment. In ordinary cases, this is sufficient to produce a cure. In more chronic cases, a longer treatment, of course, is necessary, and depends upon the severity of the trouble. For such cases, we have two larger sizes which sell for 50c and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—the Rexall Store. Wheeler & Mateer, 104 West Fourth St.

VALUABLE HORSE FELL, BROKE A LEG

Orange News: W. E. Anderson lost a valuable horse today as the result of an accident while the family was on a picnic outing in the Santiago canyon. The animal received a broken leg and was later shot.

The Andersons were picnicking near the second crossing, and had their horses a beautiful team of dark bays, staked out near them. The accident occurred when one of the high-spirited creatures in playful rearings fell to the ground. After examining the fractured leg, Mr. Anderson sought assistance and humanely put the animal out of its misery.

The team was shipped here from Montana and the horses were valued at $300 each.

C. J. McDEVITT DEAD.

It is with sincere sorrow and a keen feeling of personal loss that the editor of the Register records the death of C. J. McDevitt, at his home in Los Angeles, last Thursday, April 18.

Mr. McDevitt was a pioneer newspaper man of Southern California—was editor of the Santa Paula Chronicle twenty-odd years ago, and a charter member of the Southern California Editorial Association. In later years he became interested in mining and oil properties, and established papers in turn at Randsburg and Taft. Some five years ago he was elected president of the Southern California Editorial Association, of which he was an executive committee member at the time of his death.

Mr. McDevitt was a man of high ideals and a heart of gold. We have known but few men, of such morally rugged mould as he was, who were so tender of heart and so softened by wholesome sentiment.

In editorial association work Mr. McDevitt was ever faithful and efficient. Time after time he would come all the way from Randsburg to attend an executive committee meeting at Los Angeles, and thus put to shame some of us who failed to attend, though only an hour or two distant by rail. In all the discussions of the association, when Mr. McDevitt was present his ringing voice was always heard in eloquent emphasis of ethical and moral values.

In the passing of Mr. McDevitt the newspaper profession especially and Southern California generally sustain a real loss.

THINK THIS OVER.

In an article in the California Outlook, discussing the fatality of the La Follette campaign, Francis J. Heney in the following words, offers food for thought, and facts which every sincere Progressive man and woman should carefully consider. He says: "The defeat of the Roosevelt delegates in California would be heralded throughout the country by the reactionary newspapers as a repudiation of Governor Johnson and his progressive policies. The voters of this state are indebted to Governor Johnson for the opportunity they enjoy of expressing their presidential preference at the ballot box at this time. Governor Johnson has enabled them to put into operation in this state every progressive principle which Senator La Follette is advocating. Governor Johnson is just as much entitled to the loyal support of the Progressive Republicans of this state as Senator La Follette is to that of the Progressive Republicans of his own state."

Think that over, Mr. California Progressive.

Ralph Hathorn took an audience off its feet at a 39th district (San Francisco county) meeting, when he declared that the fight Roosevelt was fighting was against the corporate greed, the placing of dividends above humanity, that marked the careers of steamship lines which would not provide sufficient lifeboats, sufficient apparatus to meet emergencies and imperilment. And in making and enforcing the law properly against such a corporation, he pointed out, the cry would have been raised of "hurting business."

The women voters ought not complain against California progressives, who have been much more faithful to the suffrage cause than the Wisconsin progressives. No matter the professions of loyalty, the right to vote has not yet been extended to the women in that state. The progressives have been in control there for twelve years at that. As to Roosevelt, his qualified endorsement is offset by the more emphatic opposition of President Taft.

High judges who formerly took a leading part in California politics are not in evidence in the present campaign. The provision for judicial recall was one of the most beneficial pieces of legislation ever enacted in the state.

If La Follette succeeds in getting Roosevelt, he will also be getting Johnson of California, Bourne of Oregon, Borah of Idaho, Cummins of Iowa, Bristow of Kansas, and other valiant leaders of progressivism.

All along the line the Taft men are now very much on the defensive. In California they have begun throwing things, which, you will notice, are almost every one of them directed at Governor Johnson.

THE AGE OF CHIVALRY IS NOT DEAD

[We have seen nothing in print for many a day more inspiring, more ennobling, more comforting in an hour of universal sorrow, than the following tribute to the heroic men of the Titanic by a contributor ("Uncle Eben") to the Pomona Review.]

The civilization of men might be measured by the joy or sorrow, which fills their hearts when they learn of the happiness or the grief that comes to their fellowmen. Today the hearts of civilized men ache with the knowledge of a great disaster. Yet, after the recovery from the first sorrow, we are thrilled, aye, exhilarated, by the contemplation of a thousand men, with no great cause to win such as men usually fight and die for, with no trumpets blowing, no flags flying, no applause to urge them on, alone in that greatest desolation, a limitless expanse of sea, standing while women are placed in safety, facing death calmly, courageously, that those unable physically to defend themselves in a fight for life, might live.

The young Roman, Lars Parsena, before leading his army to battle against Hannibal, the Carthaginian, thrust his arm in the holy altar fire that he might show his fortitude and give his soldiers courage to suffer or to die. In the battle of Trafalgar, the great and lion-hearted Lord Nelson, stood by his post of command after an arm had been shot away. And then, losing a leg, and no longer able to stand, still he kept command of the ship; and the battle over, with his dying breath he thanked his loyal men for their glorious victory over the French.

Facing death with that soul-stirring shout, "Men, follow me!" the Confederate general, Pickett, led 30,000 of his infantry at Gettysburg against the Union artillery that mowed down the flower of Southern manhood as the reaper in the field. And Admiral Farragut, with that grim courage that fills a lesser heart with awe, had himself lashed to the mast of his ship, so that if he were killed, he might not fall, but stand, a lifeless yet a visible inspiration to his seamen to fight the battle to the end.

These, and countless other heroes, faced death courageously and their heroism, and that of the men who followed them, is the one shaft of glory that pierces the black misery of war.

Yet these men were trained for war. To face death was a part of their life. Consciously, or sub-consciously, the possibility of death was ever present in their minds. And when the crucial moment came, their past thought and environment were a sustaining influence, a foundation on which the ultimate sacrifice could rest.

I would not minimize the glory of the soldier who dies bravely amid the shout of battle; I would hold no stint of praise for him, who, before his fellows, faces death unfalteringly, that his cause may win. But before the spectacle of a thousand civilians, many of them men unused to hardship of the most trifling kind; men who possessed wealth of gold and wealth of brain that guaranteed them the full pleasures of this life; men awakened in the dead of night from a bed to which they had gone in the sense of security and anticipation of the joys of the morrow, and with no more thought of death than you and I have tonight; men like John Jacob Astor, George D. Widener, Chas. M. Hays, Washington Roebling and others, summoned to the quivering deck of the great ship, in the Stygian blackness of night, with mountains of waves and ice about them, resolutely standing aside while women, children and even their maid-servants are lowered into the boats that will take them to safety; when I contemplate this spectacle of fortitude and chivalry, this acceptance of death with no trumpets to spur the faltering courage, no flags to drape the bodies that go to unknown graves, no pageant to march in triumph should they win, no reward—absolutely none—except the last hour's hope that they may not have died in vain, when I contemplate such a spectacle, I am thrilled with that glory of the Anglo-Saxon race and that faith in fellowmen which passes my power to put in words.

And they have not died in vain. To save others, to give life to those who could not battle is a noble victory nobly won. But their sacrifice will not stop there; the hearts of millions of men beat more loyally, more chivalrously today because these men have died. More humanizing, more uplifting than all the sermons ever preached, are the deeds of men. And if to live nobly is a wonderful thing, to die nobly, to give one's life for another, is sublime. These men, these civilians, who accepted death almost without warning; who, with no preparation, no contemplation, with the blood of health pulsating through their bodies, went to an unnamed grave; these men who died that an Ideal of life might live—these men cannot die; for down the centuries, shaming the brute and ennobling man, shall go the glorious story of a thousand Anglo-Saxon men who dared to die like MEN!

Houser Finds Rowell Very Much "on the Job"

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19.—Col. W. L. Houser's selection of Fresno as his headquarters for directing the La Follette campaign has the advantage for the Rooseveltists that Editor Chester H. Rowell is on the ground to take care of him.

To surround Rowell and "get" him has very evidently been the aim of the political maneuvering for months. But Colonel Houser has in his first onslaught found Rowell still at his guns, ready with shot and shell.

Col. Houser challenged Rowell to a debate and got the reply from the editor that he would not discuss a "side issue." Rowell proceeded:

"On the question of California's national alignment I have already engaged in two public joint discussions, and have no objection to doing so again, if any purpose may be served thereby. My opponents in those discussions are engaged in an open, national, frontal attack on Col. Roosevelt's candidacy, and are entitled to be met on the same basis."

"You are engaged, in three states, in a covert, localized, flank attack on the same candidacy, whose only effect, if it were to have any, would be to divide the Progressive forces in the face of the enemy."

Rowell declared in his letter that there had been an absolute change in the spirit both of Senator La Follette and his campaign. The editor continued as follows:

"The self-sacrificing and impersonal devotion to the cause, which we all so greatly and justly admired, has given way to bitterness and a candidacy of personal revenge. The generous acceptance of Colonel Roosevelt as a fellow-progressive has given way to denunciations which supply the Taft campaign with its only aggressive ammunition."

"The La Follette that we know has shown a new face to the world, and is committing political suicide, by exhibiting a spirit which the public will scarcely be generous enough to attribute to its true cause. I can only regret, for Senator La Follette's own sake, that he has not followed the advice of the best and truest friend and supporter he has in the world—Charles R. Crane—by accepting his invitation to go on a cruise to the Mediterranean for rest

April Twenty Sixth.

Special through electric cars will leave Fourth and Main streets, at 8 a. m. sharp, Friday morning, April 26, the occasion being the annual I. O. O. F. Anniversary celebration.

The day's entertainment will include speaking, spectacular parades, free coffee at the lunch hour, if you furnish your own cup, conferring the Degree of Chivalry, competitive drills by the Cantons, grand military ball at the Auditorium in the evening, and many other attractions and concessions to those who wear the official badge.

Round trip rate 70c, via Huntington Beach. Ample returning cars to meet all necessities will be provided. Tickets are now on sale both at the office of the Santa Ana Transfer Co., at Shafer's Music House, 119 West Fourth street, and at Liebig &amp; Johnson's, 214 E. Fourth.

Persons who contemplate taking advantage of this opportunity should secure tickets immediately, or at least thirty-six hours in advance, in order that plenty of cars may be provided, assuring seats for all.

Don't forget, everybody, whether Odd Fellow or not is invited to join this jolly crowd of merry-makers. Get your tickets now, and prepare to spend an enjoyable day at the delightful beach city.

NOTICE TO VOTERS
The great register of Orange county, for the year 1912, as well as every other county of the state of California, is now being compiled. All voters who expect to participate in the general election, to be held on November 5, 1912, for president of the United States, and for certain state and county officers, must register on or before September 10, 1912, at the county clerk's office, or at the state primary election August 3, and for the general state election on October 8.

MEMORY PROGRAM

Teachers of Conservatory
Joined Classes in Musicale
Saturday Afternoon

Miss Sarah Gardner and Miss Virginia Johnston of the Orange County Conservatory of Music combined a few of the pupils from their classes in a program of piano numbers last Saturday afternoon at the spacious Conservatory studios.

A very good sized audience listened attentively and appreciatively to the well rendered program. All numbers were presented from memory and with noticeable finish, expression and mastery, characteristics that seem to mark the performance of pupils of this thriving school of music.

Once Recorder, Now Pastor
The Los Angeles Tribune this morning devotes a portion of two columns to Rev. G. E. Foster, and his assistant pastor, of the Epworth Methodist church of Los Angeles. Rev. Mr. Foster's assistant is his wife, and the capable lady has filled his pulpit several times. Their work has attracted wide attention, Mrs. Foster being much praised for her participation in church work.

The particular interest in this matter to Santa Ana, lies in the fact that Rev. Mr. Foster was formerly well known here as G. E. Foster, first recorder of Orange county, occupying the position now so ably filled by G. E. Peters, who is known as the "most popular man in Orange county."

A Pleasant House Party
Mr. and Mrs. Baumgartner and Mrs. Palmer had quite a house party over Sunday. Their guests were: Mr. and Mrs. John W. Traylor, Master J. W. Traylor, Jr., and Mrs. J. A. Traylor, of Pasadena; Mrs. W. J. T. Doak and little Miss Mary Lida Doak, Riverside; Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Sexton, Columbia, Mo. The gathering was in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Sexton, who leave for home next Sunday, after spending the winter with the Baumgartner family.

Will Honor Past Matrons
Mrs. White and Mrs. H. H. Reeves have issued invitations for a party to be given by them in honor of the Past Matrons of the Eastern Star, next Wednesday afternoon. The affair will be given at the home of Mrs. Reeves.

Orange County Conservatory of Music
We believe there are yet some of our word contestants who would like to avail themselves of their prizes and for whom it would be more convenient to begin their work immediately after the first of the month. So we have decided to give these until Saturday, May 4th, at 6 p.m., to make their arrangements.

This is not the announcement we intended making this evening, so watch for tomorrow's ad.
504½ N. Main St. Main 214.

W. C. T. U. Meeting
The W.C.T.U. will meet on Tuesday at 2:30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. J. H. Rankin, 815 Spurgeon street. The subject is "Health and Heredity." Miss Cox will give her chart talk and a good program is being arranged. Young mothers are especially invited, and a cordial invitation is extended to all others to be present.

Episcopal Tea
The Guild tea, which is to be given next Wednesday afternoon by the ladies of the Episcopal church at the home of Mrs. Reuter on South Main street, will be conducted by Mesdames William Whitehead, Oliver Remsburg and Elizabeth Wakham.

Treat For Classes
Mrs. Horace McPhee and Miss Irene Catland, who are Mrs. Carey R. Smith's assistants in teaching the primary classes of the First Baptist church Sunday school, Saturday afternoon treated their classes to a party in the form of a picnic in French street park.

The hours flew all too quickly for the little tots, who had a lovely time playing out-of-door games suitable to their ages—from four to six years. The hostesses served delicious refreshments of ice cream, cake and candies, which closed a day long to be remembered by the small guests.

Christian Science Teachings
The Bible is accepted by all Christians people as their guide to the understanding of the truth.

Christian Science is based wholly on the teachings of the Bible. It is the Christian religion obeying ALL the commands of Jesus the Christ to heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, cast out demons.

Mr. Virgil O. Strickler of New York City will give a simple explanation of the teachings of Christian Science tomorrow evening at the Opera house, and are invited to attend this free lecture.

Doors open at 7:30, lecture at 8 o'clock.

Pictures of the Titanic
—In the windows of the Wardrobe are two large photographs of the terrible Titanic disaster. These photos are real and have been rushed to the Wardrobe for display, getting here before even the newspapers have received similar pictures. You can see these photos in the windows of the Wardrobe, 117 East Fourth St., and they will sure be interesting to every one.

Prayer Meeting Tonight
The Methodist Church, South, will hold prayer meetings at that church all this week. Tonight the service will be led by L. A. West, on the topic, "The Place of Prayer in Revival Meetings."

—Phone us your orders. Premium coupons given, with all teas, coffees, spices, extracts, also groceries. Prompt delivery any part of city. Sunset Black 151, Home 3732. American Tea Co.

Special Car
—The Pacific Electric car will run from Orange to accommodate those who desire to attend the Christian Science lecture Tuesday evening.

DIED

SMITH—In this city, April 22, 1912, Albert Smith, aged 39 years. Funeral services will be held from her late residence, 1535 East First street, Wednesday, April 24, at 10:30 a.m. Deceased was the wife of George R. Smith, and had resided at the present home about six years.

PLEASANT MEETING

Household Economy Club in
One of the Best Meets of Year, Discuss Eggs

The third section of the Household Economics of the Ebell held one of the most delightful meetings of the year last Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. L. Lehy of Tusin, the members going out in automobiles.

Beautiful Gold of Ophi roses were lavishly used in the hall and library, while in the living room several cut glass bowls were filled with yellow roses. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. C. F. Bennett.

The subject of the meeting was "Eggs in Cookery," and after the subject had been thoroughly discussed a social time was enjoyed. Mrs. Wilson sang and Mrs. Andrew Getty gave several piano numbers.

The hostess was assisted by her son, Bert Lehy, in serving the following two-course luncheon: Egg salad, chicken patties, coffee; pineapple pie a la mode, cake, marshmallows in form of chickens.

Personals

C. A. Terwilliger, G. J. Mosbaugh and John McFadden returned Saturday night from a trip to the property of the Santa Ana-Rawhide Gold Mining & Milling Co., at Yerington, Nevada.

Mr. and Mrs. Orls Birch, Misses Louise and Ruth Smith were over Sunday visitors in Santa Ana with relatives and friends.

Miss Maybelle Babb of Long Beach, returned home from Long Beach Saturday night with Mr. Robt. Flook to spend the week with her grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Blodgett have returned home after two weeks' absence. Mrs. Blodgett spent the time in the city, while Mr. Blodgett was north on a business trip.

W. L. Juggan caught an early Los Angeles car this morning.

Miss Amelia Edgar spent the day in Los Angeles today.

Mr. and Mrs. George Balderston left in their automobile this morning, expecting to visit Whittier, Monrovia, Ontario and Pomona during their absence. They hope to return Wednesday morning.

Verne Baker was a passenger on an early Los Angeles bound car this morning.

Mrs. Horace McPhee was a visitor in Los Angeles today.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kants and their three daughters left today for Los Angeles, where they will make their home. They have been here about five months, living at 619 Hickley street, and their going away is to find a larger field in which to find employment.

DEATH OF MRS. GEO. R. SMITH TODAY

A death which will bring sorrow to many Santa Anans was that of Mrs. George R. Smith, which occurred about noon today. As Mrs. Smith had been a great sufferer for more than a year, her passing away came as a release from pain. She had resided here about eighteen years, and leaves a husband and one son, Donald, aged twelve years, to mourn her loss. Mrs. Smith was the first president of the Ladies' Aid Society of the United Presbyterian church. In fact, she was its only president up to the time her health failed—and was prominent in the work of the church.

What is Success?
—We take it that you are from Missouri and must be shown. We will be delighted to explain in full the success of the "Imperial Automobile" in all its construction, both in workmanship and style if you will call at the Guarantee Garage, Second and Bush streets, and ask for Thelan, Orange county distributor. They come in four different styles and are high class cars at moderate prices.

The motto of our car is, "The car that gets there and back," and that means success.

SANTA ANA CITY FOR HIGH CLASS HOMES AND DESIRABLE FAMILY ENVIRONMENT

First Prize Essay in the G. L. Dódos Contest, won by Charles Swanner.

Lying half way between the mountains and the sea, Santa Ana, the county seat of Orange county, the smallest but most productive county in all the Golden State, is an ideal home-town.

The climate of Santa Ana is unequalled, for the winters are so mild that this section is never visited by the damaging frosts which frequently nip the oranges and early vegetables in less favored sections of Southern California; and the summers are delightfully cool, for every day the breezes from the Pacific, only ten miles distant, blow in, laden with health and inspiration.

Besides its climate, Santa Ana is blessed with another great advantage for giving health to its residents, for it has an ideal water supply. Situated, as it is, in the great artesian belt, the people and homes of Santa Ana are supplied with an abundance of the purest artesian water, which comes from underground streams hundreds of feet beneath the soil, but having their sources miles away in the snow-capped Sierras.

After the healthfulness of the natural conditions, the home-seeker always considers the moral and intellectual atmosphere of the place to which he contemplates bringing his family and making his home. That a community has a moral standard, the same as an individual, no one will deny. And the high moral tone of Santa Ana is felt at once by those who dwell here even for a short time. Her moral excellence is substantiated by the facts that Santa Ana has no saloons, has strict ordinances protecting youth, and has many large and handsome churches filled to the doors by regular attendants every Sabbath Day.

A Young Men's Christian Association has recently been organized and the prospect is that this worthy organization will be provided with a suitable building in the near future.

In regard to her educational advantages, Santa Ana is in the front ranks of progress, both in respect to her teaching force and her facilities. Already provided with five large grammar school buildings, and a building equipped for practical training in the manual arts and domestic science, the people of Santa Ana have recently voted $25,000 bonds for another grammar school and $200,000 bonds for a polytechnic high school, which the Board of Education has planned shall be the equal of any school of its kind in the state.

Santa Ana has a Carnegie public library, situated near the center of town, which is well stocked with current literature as well as the masterpieces of all times. The reference department is used largely by the high school students, and the children's room is much appreciated by the little people.

The Orange County Business College and the Orange County Conservatory of Music are two important educational institutions of Santa Ana. Both are private schools that have given good service to the public.

It seems almost unnecessary to say that Santa Ana is provided with sewer system, telephones, gas and electricity, for these modern luxuries have come to be considered necessities in the present day; and no city of the size of Santa Ana, 10,000 inhabitants, could possibly do without them.

The public buildings, banks and business blocks are a credit to the city, and the principal streets are paved, lined with beautiful shade trees, and are well lighted at night.

One hour's ride on the Pacific Electric takes one to Los Angeles, the metropolis of Southern California. The P. E. also has a franchise from Santa Ana to Orange and runs a local car to the city limits where it connects with a car from Orange. Another line of the P. E. connects Santa Ana with Huntington Beach, Newport Beach and Balboa, and electric lines from Riverside and San Diego to Santa Ana are under consideration, as well as several local lines. The direct line of the Santa Fe from Los Angeles to San Diego passes through Santa Ana and the Southern Pacific has a line from Los Angeles and one to Newport and Smelter, the famous celery district. The homes of Santa Ana are surrounded by fragrant orange and lemon orchards, wide-spreading walnut trees, and peach, plum, or apricot orchards; and every yard has its lawn and ever-blooming flowers, which rival in color the roses in the cheeks of the children who play out of doors in this land of sunshine from morn till night all the year around.

SANTA ANA LOST TO LONG BEACH TEAM

In a practice game with Long Beach, on the latter's diamond Saturday afternoon, the Santa Ana high school baseball team met its first defeat of the season. The game was close and exciting from start to finish. The beach boys scored their first run in the opening inning of the game, but the Santa Ana lads came back in the second with three scores to their credit, when Barker met the ball for a home run, bringing in two men ahead of him. They increased their lead until at the beginning of the fifth the score stood 7 to 1 in Santa Ana's favor.

The local team played good ball up to this time and Barker pitched in good form, holding the beach strikers at his mercy. But the fifth and sixth innings proved to be disastrous for Santa Ana. With the strong support of their classmates, a couple of walks by Barker, some poor decisions by the umpire and a string of errors on Santa Ana's part, the Long Beach team more than evened up their side of the score, and when the seventh inning rolled around the figures stood 8 to 7 in their favor. Here it remained for the rest of the game.

Middough, Long Beach's star pitcher, was batted out of the box in the fifth inning by the Santa Ana boys, who had little trouble in meeting his curves. But luck seemed to be against them, for Saturday proved to be an o. day for Santa Ana.

The line-up was as follows: Peace, c; Barker, p; Youngman, 1b; Corliffe, 2b; Carver, 3b; Duheart, ss; Walters, lf; McGaffey, cf; Ball, rf.

FULLERTON'S ROOSEVELTERS GETTING BUSY

The Roosevelt boosters in the northern part of the county organized a club at Fullerton Saturday night with a charter membership of over half a hundred.

B. G. Balcom, president of the First National Bank of Fullerton, was chairman at the meeting.

A committee on platform and resolutions was appointed, consisting of J. W. Newell, G. W. Wilcox, and Mr. Giles of the Fullerton Tribune.

Arrangements are being made by the club for a mass meeting next Friday night. W. A. Clever, H. H. Hale and Fred West were appointed a committee to secure hall and speakers and advertise the meeting. Mr. Clever came to Santa Ana today to consult with the officers of the Progressive League of Orange County. He was accompanied by J. W. Newell and Mr. Smith, and Harry Hale went to Los Angeles to see about getting speakers.

A HELPFUL MEETING YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

College Y. M. C. A. Men Gave Valuable Addresses at M. E. Church South

A very helpful and interesting young men's Sunday afternoon meeting was held yesterday afternoon in the Spurgeon Memorial M. E. church, South, under the auspices of the local organization of the Y.M.C.A. There was a very good attendance, although the church was not completely filled, which it was hoped it would be.

After the opening devotionals two splendid addresses were given by Harold Stonier, president of the Y.M.C.A. at U.S.C., and Herbert E. Dennis, student secretary of the Y.M.C.A. at U.S.C. These two young men proved themselves to be able and forceful speakers on the subject of "Personal Purity" and it would have been well for every young man in this city to have heard such helpful talks as these young men gave yesterday afternoon. The county secretary, R. J. Hamilton, remarked that there seems to be the need for these Sunday afternoon meetings for young men, judging from previous good attendances. It would be a splendid effort, if there was a meeting for young men held every Sunday afternoon. It would fill a long felt want and would encourage Christian fellowship among the young men of the city.

LOS ANGELES PAPER SAYS ORDERS ISSUED CAPT. ULM THINKS IT IS IMAGINATION

SAYS THERE'S TALK OF QUICK ADVANCE

Los Angeles Tribune: Word has been passed quietly to the officers and privates of the four companies of infantry, one troop of cavalry and one battery of field artillery, Seventh regiment, National Guard of California, to be prepared for the field at twenty-four hours' notice.

The situation was intensified last night by orders sent out by Adjutant General E. A. Forbes, commanding the National Guard of California, to recruit each company up to seventy men, nine more than are required by the United States army regulations, and about thirty more than are mustered now in the companies of the Seventh regiment.

Ready to Move Troops
Transportation to any necessary or possible vantage point along the Mexican border has been arranged for the Seventh regiment; ten days' rations for every man stationed in Southern California are where they can be produced at a few hours' warning; fifty muskets are in readiness; necessary supply wagons are at hand and ammunition is here to the formidable extent of several thousand rounds.

All of this is said to have been accomplished without a formal order, and without any stir that might cause unnecessary alarm. Every man of the 300 militiamen in Los Angeles, following the instructions of his commanding officer, has prepared his affairs so that he can leave them in tolerably fit order at any moment and with only a few hours' notice. The Seventh regiment is ready to move at the first word of the telegraph receiver bringing orders from headquarters. The same is said to be true of every division of the United States National Guard.

Expectancy Prevails
In the army, Eighth and Spring streets, the men talk of little else. There is an atmosphere of suppressed excitement. There is expectancy.

Brigadier General Robert Wankowski did not have much to say about the preparedness of the Seventh regiment last night. He denied that any formal orders had come which might be considered the cause of unusual preparations, but admitted that the captains, commanding officers and quartermasters had made the aforementioned provisions.

"It's their duty," he said, "to be ready for any emergency. No doubt they are doing the same thing all over the country—have done it, I should say. I can't speak for Adjutant General E. A. Forbes, but I don't doubt he, too, has made specific arrangements for railroad transportation and all that sort of thing."

But the men at the armory spoke quite freely. They didn't hesitate to enumerate the different precautionary measures that have been taken, nor to admit that their commanding officers had instructed them to prepare their business relations for an enforced and indefinite absence.

CHEAP FUEL, CHEAP FUEL
Apricot pits must be closed out. Price reduced to $2.00 per ton in yard. GUGGENHEIM & CO., Santa Ana.

Would any price take those old de-guerreotypes of dear ones, taken long ago? Posterity will cherish yours, too. Think about it. There is a photographer here. See Hickox.

COMPANY L ALWAYS READY FOR MARCH

"There's nothing to it, so far as I know," said Captain N. A. Ulm, in charge of Company L of Santa Ana, after reading the "war" article in the Los Angeles Tribune. "I have had no such orders, and I think a good deal of it is imagination of some private who have been talking to a reporter in Los Angeles."

"We are all aware that the United States and Mexico are having trouble, and that there is a possibility of men being sent to the border or into Mexico. These possibilities have been discussed by everybody."

"As to recent orders to get prepared for the front, I have had none. The usual standard of excellence in the National Guard of California has been raised to a standard of being ready at a minute's notice for actual service. Company L has been ready for months to go to the field at any time. Ever since we got things ship-shape at the new armory, we have been ready to send our tents down the chute at the armory and hike. Our tents, cooking range and such articles have been packed for a year. We are in good shape. That is our usual condition."

"I think a good many of these orders for refitting and for the issuance of certain supplies are misinterpreted and would be looked upon as of no consequence were it not for the Mexican possibilities."

"Take that statement in the Tribune concerning the ammunition—several thousand rounds. Why, nearly every company has several thousand rounds most of the time. We sometimes have had 10,000 or 12,000 rounds, and practically never less than 2,000. One division, which is three regiments, would carry 1,000,000 rounds in belts, and would take 3,000,000 rounds for an excursion."

"If orders should come for Company L to go to the front, Company L would be ready. It is ready right now, and has been ready for many months. It is our habitual condition."

THE CAUSE OF 90 PER CENT OF HUMAN ILLS

Prominent and reliable medical authority asserts that fully 90 per cent of human ills are directly traceable to clogged systems. Figure it out yourself—practically all the disorders of the blood, stomach, liver and kidneys are the result of poor sewerage. Thousands and thousands of one people you meet every day are only half living—they are living the typical American life—shortening their days and lengthening their doctor bills. I'll venture to say that for every man and woman who is today enjoying real buoyant, vigorous, bounding health—99 are suffering from various ailments due to clogged systems. If you are one of the 99, let me say this to you—"Brackett's System Builder" will set you right. It will gently but thoroughly houseclean your system—tone up every organ of your body and give you that enthusiastic, ambitious, tireless energy that is typical of perfect radiant health.

Brackett's System Builder is a purely herb remedy—no habit-forming, drugs about it. It is put up in pleasant-to-take tablet form—50 doses, 50¢—all druggists, or Wheeler and Ma-teer, 104 West Fourth street.

SEELY CHOSEN BOARD'S HEAD

Selection of Appointive Officers at Huntington Beach to be Made Monday

Huntington Beach News: The election of W. D. Seely as president of the Board of Trustees of this city was the chief incident of the first meeting of the new board Monday evening at the City Hall. Mr. Seely received the unanimous vote of his fellow-trustees and assumed his new position amid the hearty applause of the large audience present. His administration will have the benefit of his strong personal popularity and his known sense of fairness and justice, his even disposition and sturdy adherence to every measure which makes for civic progress and cleanliness will be largely in evidence during his term of office.

The outgoing board canvassed the vote of the recent municipal election and declared the result as already published in these columns. All were present except Trustee Stewart. The board then adjourned sine die.

The next act of the present trustees, after the choice of their president, was the approval of the bonds of City Clerk C. E. Lavering, who took the oath of office, and City Treasurer R. E. Graves, who was not present. Both are bonded by the American Surety Company of New York.

Upon motion of Trustee French, D. G. Wetlin of this city was temporarily appointed city attorney to hold office until the regular appointee is named at the next meeting of the board.

Trustee Manning's motion to defer the choice of all appointive officers until the first Monday in May received unanimous approval.

Inspect San Jacinto's New Water System

The recent Water Discovery and Development at the foot of Mt. San Jacinto attracts outside attention. Engineers and Water Experts of three states speak data on Citizens Water Company's model plan of development. Conditions are pronounced exceptional, and system ideal, with phenomenal possibilities for further development.

Many new and interesting theories have been advanced and proven in this development. Even the two narrow streaks of clay, called the Italian Wash and Indian Creek, which cross-cut the upper part of the valley (meaning little to the untrained eye), play an important part in creating the source of this immense water supply. For centuries these two little gullies have been pulling down the clay from the surrounding hills and depositing its putty-like formation, layer upon layer, along their entire course, slowly but surely building the great submerged dike or dam, sufficient in length and depth to retain the millions of inches of water that is today stored in the great subterranean lake, proven to exist above its wall. This great reservoir has existed for centuries, and will continue to exist for as many more. The out-cropping of surface water, called the cleonega, immediately above this dike, gave mute evidence of this impoundment and supplied the incentive for its full exploitation.

The existence of this dike was proven by placing a series of test wells along its lower or west side. No perceptible water supply was obtainable at three hundred feet in these holes, while in a corresponding string of holes directly opposite to these, but above the dike, flowing water in unlimited quantities was obtained in every case within a few feet of the surface. Many hundreds of test holes were placed over an area of five square miles, with the same result as the latter, proving conclusively that this supply is not only inexhaustible, but that it is separate and distinct from other water supplies in the valley.

Miles of submerged pipe line, with perforations on top side, to admit the percolating waters, are already in commission, conveying the flow by gravity from every direction to the Company's immense head gates, or main lines of distribution.

We wish to state to our readers, especially those who are seeking locations, that this is truly an exceptional condition for this country, and can have but one meaning, unparalleled and continued prosperity for this beautiful little valley, and a snug fortune for all who are lucky enough to secure a share of its rare offerings at even double the price obtainable at this time. For further information address the San Jacinto Board of Trade, San Jacinto, Cal.

William E. Smythe Is to Speak at Spurgeon's Hall at Eight Tonight

The first public speaking of the campaign in favor of the nomination of Robert La Follette for the Republican candidate for president will be held tonight at Spurgeon's hall. The speaker will be William E. Smythe, a well known speaker and writer. Smythe is one of the ablest men in the state fighting in the La Follette cause.

It is understood that La Follette will visit Santa Ana during his tour of the state in behalf of his candidacy. But a very few voters and the organizer turned out to the meeting called for Saturday night for the purpose of organizing a La Follette club in Santa Ana. The organizer was William G. Yeo of Los Angeles, a member of the central committee of La Follette clubs. The officers of the club are: President, J. F. Doyle; vice-president, C. O. Fletcher; secretary-treasurer, G. W. Decker.

WERE WEDDED IN AUTOMOBILE

Owing to Lack of Familiarity With Crutches, Ceremony Was Out of Doors

Frank E. Ivy, who owns a restaurant near the Salt Lake station in Los Angeles, and Miss Clara Connelly were married this morning by Rev. Secombe, pastor of the First Congregational Church, while they sat in an automobile.

Ivy recently had one leg amputated, and he is now to crutches. Owing to the fact that it would be hard for him to get up and down the steps at the church, the ceremony was performed in the automobile.

A wedding ring was purchased at J. H. Padgham & Son's place before the couple went to the church.

SEASON'S CITRUS RECORD BROKEN

380 Cars of Oranges Shipped From California on Last Saturday

SAN BERNARDINO, April 22.—The season's citrus fruit shipment records were broken by the Santa Fe railroad Saturday, when 13,171,200 oranges were started to the eastern railroads.

A total of 196 cars of fruit were gathered in the switching yards, and shortly after dawn the great shipment was started over the mountain. It required twelve powerful locomotives to move the big train to the summit of Cajon pass.

There were four sections of the train. Had they been coupled together the string of precious freight would have been two miles long.

Santa Fe officials estimate that 380 cars of citrus fruit, or 27,793,200 oranges, today were moved out of Southern California on the three roads.

HEROISM, FLOWER OF SPIRIT, AS SHOWN IN TITANIC WRECK, LAUDED IN WORLD'S PULPITS

Yesterday was the first Sabbath day since the Titanic disaster, that wrought desolation on two continents, wrenching the hearts of nations.

In memory of those who went down in the depths of ocean in the greatest of marine disasters, there were memorial services throughout this country and England, as well as in other civilized lands, where sermons voiced heartfelt words of grief for the lost, sympathy for those who mourn near and dear ones, and praise for the calm courage and deeds of heroism with which the living and dead of the mighty Titanic met the disaster in which more than 1500 people lost their lives.

Cathedral bells tolling in great cities, and humbler chiming in lesser towns and villages, called worshippers to the solemn services commemorating the world-grinding calamity. In old world and new world, from east coast to west coast, the people united in what was in reality one grand universal memorial of the Titanic dead; a memorial that crystallized from the common impulse of sympathy and the depths in human nature that make the whole world kin.

In Santa Ana Churches Locally there was probably no church where some reference at least was not made to the mighty catastrophe and in several of the churches there were special sermons and music. At the First Presbyterian church, Rev. J. A. Stevenson outlined the tragedy, declaring that the investigation now proceeding as well as the voluminous reports, lead to the conclusion that gross commercialism—the weighing of the dollar against the man—was the cause of the disaster. Following this he said:

"A catastrophe like this shows that some men are indescribably small. It also shows that some, many indeed, are wonderfully great. Manhood, not muscle, commanded in that trying hour. The weaker were helped into half and quarter hours and will be mounted in front of the theater. This is the centenary of the bell's active service and the hundred and twelfth year of its existence. It was first set up in San Gabriel, to which it is to return, and was later sent to San Bernardino, when a band of venturesome and fearless priests, in the spring of 1812, founded a mission there.

M'VEAGH MAKES ANNUAL REPORT

U. S. Treasurer Gives Details of Financial Condition of United States

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Franklin McVeagh, treasurer of the United States, has issued his annual report. The interest-bearing debt, outstanding March 31, 1912, was $963,776,770. The debt on which interest had ceased since maturity is $1,805,240,26, and that bearing no interest is $381,451,470.90.

Interest-Bearing Debt The interest-bearing debt has been carried since 1898, with a loan of $198,792,660, payable after August 1, 1908. Other loans have been subsequently incurred as follows:

Consols of 1530, authorized March 14, 1900, redeemable after April 1, 1930, $646,250,150; loan of 1925, authorized January 14, 1875, redeemable after February 1, 1925, $162,315,400; Panama canal loans of 1906 and 1908, authorized June 28, 1902, and December 21, 1905, redeemable after August 1, 1916, and November 1, 1918, respectively, $34,631,980; Panama canal loan of 1911, authorized August 5, 1909, February 4, 1910, and March 2, 1911, redeemable June 1, 1961, $30,000,000; postal savings bonds (two series), authorized June 25, 1910, redeemable after July 1, 1912, $459,280.

Notes Outstanding Certificate and treasury notes outstanding March 31, 1912, aggregated $1,518,605,369. Of this amount $1,424,991,627 is in circulation, and $93,613,742 remains in the treasury. The total cash in the treasury is $281,534,096.15, with $150,000,000 of this in the reserve fund. During the month of March, 1912, an increase of $9,641,392.36 was recorded in the treasury accounts, exclusive of reserves and trust funds.

the boats, the stronger remained to die. It has been said that greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends. These brave men laid down their lives for strangers. The millionaire died that the serving maid might live. Thank God for the magnificent manhood that could not be crushed by an iceberg; that could not be daunted by an icy sea; that could stand the strain and not break; that could perish that others might live.

He said the call of the living through the wireless was heard and heeded by ocean liners, but the call of the souls of the dying was heard surely by God as those of the wireless by the Carpathia.

After a tribute by Mr. Stevenson to the immortal band of the Titanic which played "Nearer, My God, to Thee," to cheer the living and to strengthen the brave souls on the sinking ship, the choir closed the service with the singing of that hymn. As an offertory the organist, R. E. Debreas of Los Angeles, had played the dead march from Saul.

Speaking last evening on the text, "The Sea Is No More," the pastor of the United Presbyterian church, Rev. W. L. C. Samson, noted that while the sea to John in the Island of Patmos was a symbol of unrest, and mystery, and separation, and danger, yet it was the sea as it imprisoned the old apostle that brought out the fact of his faithfulness to Christ and Christian ideals, and in the wonderful revelation that came to him there, God was sensibly nearer to him than he had been when the waters of the great sea were not prison walls. In applying the text to the Titanic disaster, it was noted that loyalty to unselfish ideals and the exhibition of heroic chivalry was a resultant of the uplifting power of the gospel of the Son of God. The sermon encouraged and quieting terror with religious airs and going down into the deep playing "Nearer, My God, to Thee," brought out the nearness of God in the awful calamity, and demonstrated that the Christ alone could give hope.

Rev. H. E. Murkett of the Methodist church yesterday morning referred in a strong address to the solemn catastrophe, applying the lessons of the wreck, the courage displayed in the midst of the terror and the appealing touch of truth in God, to the vicissitudes they should be met.

At the Congregational church in the evening Rev. C. H. Secombe preached on "The Titanic Disaster," and among other splendid passages said: "Among the lessons which the Titanic tragedy has taught the world is that of the triumph of humanity. The peril of commercialism, that of placing money before human welfare, is exhibited in the sacrifice of safety to speed and luxurious equipment—financial assets. The true mission of commercialism is shown in the wireless telegraph, which rises above the plane of mere financial profit and becomes a saviour of life. The great lesson, however, of the tragedy is shown in the unselfish heroism of the men and women of that fated ship. No panic, no mad rush for the lifeboats, characterized the scene; instead the men bravely assisted women and children, giving their lives to save life. It has been said that the law operating in the evolution of the brute creation is 'the survival of the fittest.' Jesus Christ taught and exemplified a higher principle in the realm of the moral and spiritual. 'Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends.' Humanity is capable of rising to that plane where the strong sacrifice for the weak. The glory of the Titanic disaster is the glory of humanity overcoming the brute instincts in triumphant loyalty to heroism and unselfish service of others."

Played beautifully by Alan A. Revill were Gullmunt's "Lamentation," Chopin's "Funeral March" and the "Dead March" from Haydn's "Saul." "Nearer My God to Thee" was sung at the close of the service.

ORANGE COUNTY COAST MEN IN FIGHT FOR COAST ROUTE

LONG BEACH, April 22.—Sixty-five representatives from cities on the coast and the foothills gathered at the Virginia hotel Saturday night to discuss the proposed coast boulevard. They formed an organization to further the project of a coast boulevard and elected Louis N. Wheaton, a Long Beach attorney, president; J. A. Armitage, Sunset Beach, secretary, and Lew Wallace, Newport Beach, treasurer. The selection of a vice president was left to the delegation of thirty-five Monrovia citizens who attended the meeting. Their choice will be announced later. A suggestion that probably will be followed was made that each chamber of commerce of every city along the coast from Santa Barbara to San Diego, and of every municipality adjoining the foothills appoint a member to serve on the executive committee. The officers elected Saturday night will get into communication with the chambers of commerce concerning their appointments as soon as possible.

The sentiment evinced at the meeting demonstrated that the coast boulevard would become a reality if co-operation and industry could consummate such a project. Mr. Wheaton called the attention of the representatives to the benefit Massachusetts and New York received from their network of fine roads both along the coast and in the interior. He said California was destined to become the Italy of America because of her natural beauty and the possibilities in the development of art and other refining pursuits. A coast boulevard was an easy possibility in California, he stated. The easy grades assisted to no small extent. There were no marshes to cross, as in the states along the Atlantic coast. J. A. Armitage touched upon the lure a coast boulevard in this state would hold out to tourists. "When a rigorous winter makes it impossible for people to enjoy automobilism," he said, "the residents of this state can journey up and down the coast in mild and enjoyable weather, spinning along and taking pleasure in living. A coast boulevard will attract thousands of tourists to this state every year, and will be the means of inducing many to make this state their permanent residence."

Both the coast and the foothill representatives pledged themselves to co-operate in securing a coast and also a foothill highway.
